Topic title Offer bot creation

Topic description (maximum 50 words)

In the department in which I work, my main task is to work on improving operational processes in ~~my~~ the Business unit Customer Services. Currently, I am working on a project to create a robot which automatically generates offers. When this project is finished, it should help our colleagues from the Sales department to be faster so that our customers get their offers faster. I chose this topic because working ^{on} in this project is really interesting. It doesn't only include knowledge about the offer process, but also knowledge about programming and digitalization.

does not = more formal

use 'more quickly' the second time to avoid repetition

This is a very interesting topic, Marius. Think carefully about what you will put in your conclusion. Perhaps you could comment on what will happen after the project is completed.
